Foreword

Greetings from the British Council!

I am delighted to present the British Council Studying Business and Management in the UK magazine for students from South Asia who are interested in studying these courses in the UK.

The United Kingdom offers you a world-leading education system, with accredited UK qualifications that can make a real difference to your career. The UK is a global business hub, with a location and time zone that allows it to connect easily with the business world around the globe. It is also a nation of entrepreneurs. The UK is recognised as the seventh best country to start a business and is home to the world's top financial city – London – which alone supports more than 6m jobs. UK attracts businesses from all over the world, and is a leading exporter of ideas, technology and talent.

With hundreds of academically respected business schools, offering great value and an exciting introduction to business for both undergraduate and postgraduate studies, studying business and management in the UK will help you realise your ambitions.

The UK Government has also recently announced the Graduate route which will enable international students to remain in the UK for two years (three years for PhD graduates) after they have completed their degrees. Students applying to graduate in the summer of 2021 or after will be eligible for this.

This publication will help you understand more about studying Business and Management in the UK, how these subjects are taught at universities and colleges, and what sort of career paths one can pursue. We hope this information will give you the confidence and knowledge you need to pursue your dream career.

Do remember that there are thousands of business and management courses and degrees available across many UK universities and colleges and you can find out more about them, compare and study various institution profiles and offers here.

In the academic year 2019-20, there were over 69,000 students from South Asia studying in the UK, where the outstanding contribution that students from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Nepal make to the international student community is greatly valued and celebrated.

I sincerely hope that this Business and Management publication can help you make crucial decisions about your higher education plans and I wish you every success in making the most of your opportunity to study in the UK.

Good Luck!

Studying Business and Management in the UK

Courses, applications, requirements and employability

Where can I study business?

More than 120 universities in the UK offer business courses, including some of the best in the world. London Business School is currently ranked seventh¹ in the global university rankings, with the University of Oxford, Imperial College Business School, Warwick Business School and Alliance Manchester Business School all in the top 50. But wherever you choose to study, a UK business degree will open doors worldwide and give you the best possible preparation for a global career.

What is the application process?

Most International Baccalaureate applications require between 35 and 38 points, with either AAA or AAB A-level grades. Courses typically request an existing humanities or social sciences degree and a 7.0 overall IELTS score, with no lower than 6.5 in any individual component.

How long does it take to graduate?

MBAs in the UK can be completed in just one academic year of full-time study, though there are lots of longer part-time study options also available. Most business-related degrees take three years to complete at an undergraduate level, with some running over four years to provide a year's professional placement.

What is the course structure?

While different business schools set their own programme content, most business and management courses in the UK will follow a shared approach at first. This allows you to cover core skills such as market knowledge, staff management, strategy and finance, before specialising in areas that you are passionate about. The challenge-based nature of teaching favoured in the UK helps to make sure everything you learn has relevance to real-world situations, so you're ready to move forward more quickly within your chosen field.

Why is the UK a good choice for business?

The flexible, modular nature of UK business degrees, and their short duration, means you can access some of the best teaching possible and still get out into the world of business much sooner. You'll also graduate with transferable skills that can be applied anywhere, giving you excellent value for money. It's why 127,000² business and administration students choose the UK every year.

What is the business climate like in the UK?

Thanks to its location and time zone the UK has evolved into a global business hub and is home to the world's top financial city – London. It's also the seventh best country to start a business, with 660,000 new companies registering in the UK every year.³ Because the UK attracts businesses from all over the world, it continues to be a leading exporter of ideas and technology with a highly diverse multicultural talent pool. So whether you're looking for a job or a place to start your own business, the UK is one of the best possible locations in the world to get started.

What are my work options after I graduate?

A UK business degree will help you enter a wide range of business and management careers after you graduate, from banking or advertising to general management and consultancy.

The average starting salary for UK business graduates is £22,000, with many opportunities leading to positions that can pay well above £100,000 a year. Of course, if you plan on starting your own business, you'll graduate well equipped for that journey too.

And from summer 2021, international students will be able to apply to stay and work in the UK for two years through the new Graduate Route. Search Study UK Graduate Route to find out more.

Scholarships and funding

Scholarships are provided for the financial assistance for international students who wish to study in the UK. Scholarships are generally limited in number and are offered to a specific segment or for a specific field of study. As such they are always highly competitive and are aimed largely at postgraduate level students. For undergraduate studies, scholarships, bursaries and partial fee waivers are much rarer. It is important to note the following: The application process, amount of scholarship and criteria will differ for each scholarship.

Scholarships in the UK are funded by:

- UK government
- External agencies
- Universities/higher education institutions

British Council managed

Scholarships: GREAT Scholarships: In collaboration with the UK's GREAT Britain campaign, the British Council has launched Great Scholarships - 2020 over a broad range of subjects. This is a great opportunity for Indian students wishing to access a UK university education.

Here are some tips that can help you apply for a scholarship

Beyond just grades, build an all-round application

Contrary to what many may think, it's not always the top scorers who win scholarships. While academic merit is undoubtedly of importance, most universities are looking for well-rounded, emotionally intelligent and unique individuals, who accord as much importance to honing their extra curriculars (be it sports, creative activities, volunteering, internships) as they do their academic records. UK Universities are looking for empathetic individuals with 21st century skills, individuals who are curious and look beyond classroom learning to make a difference in their world.

Why you?

Chances are you will be among hundreds of scholarship applicants, as they are highly coveted and prestigious. It is important for you to outline what your special skills are and why they should choose you and especially, what you hope to achieve with this opportunity should it be given to you.

Eligibility criteria

UK higher education institutions and agencies offer hundreds of scholarships and bursaries to students from across the world. Many of these are very specific to certain nationalities, subjects, level of study, may even have age-limits and course duration specifications. Always do your research and check you are fulfilling all criteria before applying. And remember, check university websites, British Council websites and search extensively to ensure you are not missing any scholarships you could be eligible for. And if you're not sure, just ask the university you are applying to, which scholarships you can apply for and they will always help you out.

Work hard on your application

No pressure, but you do need to get this one right! Work hard on your scholarship essay and application. Create many drafts, ask your teachers, friends, family to read them and give you honest feedback, and make sure you are answering the question "Why me?". Be original, never copy from other applications (plagiarism is a strict no-no in the UK), and articulate your aspirations for this scholarship.

Learn from others

If you're unsure about your essay or worried you've missed some scholarships, underconfident about scholarship interviews (some prestigious ones have interviews), find an alumni or current awardee in the UK, a senior from school or college, a professor or teacher or ask the university you want to apply to, to connect you to past scholarship winners, so they can give you helpful tips and mentor you.

Deadlines matter

Scholarship deadlines are almost always sacrosanct and applying on time shows you are serious about your application. Make a list of the various deadlines and stick to them, and always apply early if possible.

Apply!

One of the most common questions from students who want to apply for scholarships is, "will I get it?" You won't know till you apply, so always, always apply. Remember, scholarships are not reserved for geniuses with a high IQ, they are for students with clarity of thought, academic aspirations with a clear value proposition. And that can most definitely be you.

Careers in Business and Management

A business management degree prepares you for a career in business in any industry across a wide variety of sectors. Skills in decision-making, creativity in problem-solving, analytical thinking and effective communication skills will prepare you well for almost any career you decide to pursue.

It is important to gain experience while studying courses in business management. You may do this through extracurricular activities at university or take up positions in clubs and groups that encourage team-building, business or finance skills. You may apply for part-time work in an area of your chosen field of work.

Think about the area in business management you would like to specialise in and try to get some relevant work experience.

Business Management studies has one of the widest job repertoires which means that a large number of industries and sectors will accept and even prefer employees with a business management degree.

Some jobs related to business management are:

Accountant, business adviser, business analyst, consultant, corporate banking, data scientist, stock market analyst, actuaries, chartered management, insurance, project manager, stockbroker, and many more.

There are many other jobs where your degree can be extremely useful, such as, auditor, human resources, logistics and distribution manager, marketing, retail and sales, systems analyst, broker, teacher or lecturer amongst others.

These roles exist across various sectors such as manufacturing, Fast Moving Consumer Goods, fashion and retail, utilities, healthcare, travel and tourism, and more and across the private, public, and voluntary sectors.

Many employers accept applications from graduates with different academic backgrounds and skills learnt in a business management course is always in demand, so do not restrict your ambitions to the roles mentioned here.

Many large employers offer graduate training schemes which focus on commercial roles. While many prefer experience across a number of departments/ skill sets, there are others who prefer specialisation in particular fields such as marketing or finance.

The skills you will learn

Studying a business management degree will help you develop an understanding of corporate, public and private business organisations and will provide you specialist knowledge in customer behaviour, finance, operations, sales, retail, human resources, communication, information technology and business policy and strategy.

You will learn transferable skills around understanding organisational behaviour and structure, critical thinking, problem solving, decision-making, communication skills, analytical and creative approach towards business issues, researching and analysing business and financial data, managing time, resources and projects effectively, cause and effect of economic changes among other skills.

Academic futures:

Many graduates choose to study further in marketing, finance, human resources, computing and international business management, to specialise and grow their proficiency in specific areas of business. Undergraduates may choose to study a masters, many move on to study an MBA. Postgraduates may also choose to pursue a PhD in a specific topic in business management and later may pursue a career in academia.

Many prefer to study a professional qualification while working, and these are often encouraged and even sponsored by employers. Professional qualifications are provided by organisations such as the:

- Chartered Management Institute
- Institute of Leadership and Management
- The Chartered Institute of Marketing
- Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development \(CIPD\)
- Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales \(ICAEW\)
- Chartered Institute of Management Accountants \(CIMA\)

The wide range of choices in careers in business management can make it difficult to choose a specific course or area of specialisation. Think about what you enjoy and weigh in against what you are good at and how you would like your career to shape up, the employability prospects in that field and available job roles in that sector.

Graduate route and Student route

Harry Booty, UKVI International Communications Lead, UK Visas and Immigration answers most common questions about Graduate route and Student route.

What is the Graduate route and who is eligible for it? (and who will not be, eg distance learning students, those who arrive after 21 June / 27 September etc)

The Graduate route is the UK's new post-study work opportunity that will be available for graduates from eligible universities in the UK. It will be two years long (or three years for Doctoral students) and gives eligible students the right to work, or look for work, whilst in the UK. The university you study at has to be registered with the Home Office with a track record of compliance (you can check this on Gov. UK) and you have to be studying at undergraduate level or above. You won't be able to apply for the Graduate route from anywhere outside the UK, and dependants (e.g. spouses or children) can only apply for the Graduate route if they are inside the UK with a valid Student Dependant visa also. Furthermore, you can only avail the Graduate route once per individual – it won't be possible to repeatedly switch from Student visas to the Graduate route, for example. The Covid concession allows for students who have commenced a course in autumn 2020 via distance learning to apply for the Graduate route, provided they are in the UK by 21 June 2021. Students who started their studies in January/February 2021 must be in the UK by 27 September 2021 to apply for the route.

From when does it come into effect and what about students affected by Covid 19 restrictions?

It will be introduced on 01 July 2021, and anyone who has a valid student visa (either the old Tier 4 visa or new Student route visa) will be able to apply, if they are in the UK with a valid visa at the time of introduction and successfully complete an eligible degree course at undergraduate level or above.

Relating to Covid-19, the UK Government has confirmed that students can study online for the duration of the 2020-21 academic year. As part of that, students will still be eligible for the Graduate route as long as they are in the UK by 21 June 2021 and then complete their course inside the country. Students who started their course in January/February 2021 will need to be in the UK by 27 September 2021 to be able to apply for the Graduate route.

What benefits do I get from the Graduate route?

The new Graduate route represents a fantastic improvement for international students, who will now get more time to work, or look for work, after their studies in the UK. You do not need to be sponsored (e.g. you do not need a job offer) and can work at any skill level for any salary. This gives you more flexibility to begin your career in the UK, start earning money and explore different avenues for employment in the UK, rather than being tied to a single employer.

An important thing to note however is that it is a one-time two year (or three year for doctoral students) visa only, and it doesn't count towards settlement. To stay in the UK longer, or count time towards applying to permanently settle in the UK, you will be able to consider other routes – such as the Skilled Worker, Start Up, Innovator or other visa routes.

What is the student route and how does it affect students from south Asian countries

The new Student route opened on 5 October 2020 and replaced the old Tier 4 student route. All students applying for courses within the UK, who are aged 16 or over will apply for the new Student route. This has similarities with the old route, for example around language and finance. However, it becomes simpler in several notable ways. Most importantly, students will be able to apply up to six months before their course starts if they are applying from outside the UK – meaning they can sort their visa in good time before they need to travel. Furthermore, it will be easier for students to extend their Student visa inside the UK, if they wish to continue their studies (e.g. opting to do a masters after completing an undergraduate course).

What are some tips to ensure I get my visa approved?

Our main advice is to apply as early as possible. It takes about three weeks to get a response on your visa application (though it may be possible to pay for Priority or Super Priority visa service to get a response quicker, depending on where you are).

Our second main point of advice is to check your visa application and supporting documents thoroughly before submitting. Sometimes people get rejected for not meeting our basic requirements – for example not having money for 28 days before applying or not supplying evidence of English language proficiency. Visiting GOV.UK or speaking to your university about the information needed and ensuring to meet this is a simple way to maximise your chances of success.

Finally, we'd say, don't worry too much! The vast majority of applicants are successful, and genuine students have nothing to worry about from our visa process. It may be that we ask for further information or even an interview – however, if you are able to come along, talk to us fluently in English and explain your plans and intentions for studying in UK, you shouldn't be troubled by the experience.

Do I need to get an IELTS test for my UK student visa?

All students must be able to speak English to a high standard to be granted a Student visa. In official language, this is to B2 standard under the Common European Framework of Reference to study at degree level or above or B1 level to study below degree level, or CEFR. In practice, this means high proficiency or near-fluency.

Whether students will be required to sit a IELTS test or not depends on the level of study that is being undertaken and the type of sponsor the study will be conducted at. Students studying below degree level must pass an IELTS test. For students studying at degree level or above UK universities do have discretion about how they test English, and may offer different options for you to show your English proficiency to them. This differs from institution to institution so it is best to check directly with your chosen university. However you prove your English will be shown on the Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies, which you need to apply for your visa. You will need to provide the evidence of English language ability that the CAS references as part of your visa application.

About IELTS

IELTS-The International English Language Testing system, is one of the most trusted English language tests around the world with more than 10,000 organisations recognising it internationally. It is accepted by educational institutions, companies, professional bodies and government organisations in the UK, the USA, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Singapore, Europe and 140 more countries around the world.

IELTS is one of the pioneering English language assessments developed by the prestigious University of Cambridge and offered by the British Council. The test has been setting the standard for English language testing and is trusted for both academic and immigration purposes.

The IELTS test assesses the English language ability of a candidate by evaluating all the four skills i.e. Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking. There are two IELTS tests:

IELTS Academic – assesses the degree of English language proficiency for an academic environment.

IELTS General Training – assesses the candidates English language level to function effectively in everyday situations.

IELTS can be taken on Paper (test takers to sit at a desk with the question papers and answer sheets for the Reading, Listening and Writing tests) or on Computer (test takers to sit the Reading, Listening and Writing tests in front of a computer with the questions presented on the screen). The Speaking test is carried out face-to-face with a trained IELTS examiner either in-person or over video-call.

When you book IELTS with the British Council, the booking process is simple and hassle free online . We also provide you the following benefits:

- Free access to the Road to IELTS Last Minute course: Includes 100 interactive activities, videos tutorials, and practice tests for the four skills.
- Free access to WORDREADY: An online resource delivering personalised vocabulary learning.
- Practice tests: Free practice tests online at takeielts.org/prepare .
- Carefully selected venues: 850 official British Council IELTS test centres
- Professional and friendly staff: Highly trained and experienced staff
- Five Test Report Forms (TRF) free: Five Free additional copies of your Test Report Form sent directly to institutions.

Msc Marketing & Technology at Goldsmiths was the first choice when I was looking for a master's course to sharpen my expertise. Working for five years in Tokyo at an art foundation, fashion company, and a one of the Big Five consulting firms, I was determined that my passion is to become a marketer specialised in the creative industry. This course has given me opportunities to not only theoretically develop my knowledge but also practically learn and achieve skills that I can apply in the real world immediately after I graduate and pursue my professional goal.

Cami Rincon

I found out about Goldsmiths through a friend. After working in the non-profit sector, I was looking to enhance my management skills through a business masters program that was also creative. The Management on Innovation MSc offered the combination of excitement and practical tools I was looking for. The campus atmosphere is really friendly, and London is filled with cutting edge cultural experiences. After graduation, I'd love to become a Project Manager or Innovation Consultant for social enterprises and community organizations.

Devankit Biswas

I came to Goldsmith University hoping for good education, but was rewarded with practical knowledge and experiences that I had only dreamt of.

Being the youngest amongst my peers I was a bit nervous about the amount of experience that I brought to the table. Yet it was that very aspect that made the learning so much more meaningful and fun as my ideas fitted in well with veterans from various creative worlds studying with me. “A new and unconventional approach” they called it- the thing that I, myself needed as an Indian to try and better the creative and cultural scenes in my country. Our mentors guided us through this course wonderfully and I will be eternally grateful for their role in my journey.

The MA in Creative and Cultural Entrepreneurship taught me how to effectively address social and cultural issues with creative media. After my course, I worked as the Chief Script Writer for a firm in India, where one of my projects was to conceptualize explainer videos for the Ministry of Human Resources and Development, Govt. of India directed towards empowering the women and girls of rural India. I am currently a Senior Copywriter in a creative firm where I have been able to head advertising and marketing projects for several established corporate entities as well as upcoming start-ups.

University of Bristol

The University of Bristol is at the cutting edge of global research and is one of the leading Russell Group institutions (a group representing the UK's 24 most prestigious universities). We are one of the most popular and successful universities both in the UK and internationally, ranking in the world's top 60 in the QS World University Rankings 2021. The academic quality and teaching rigour at Bristol is reflected in part by the 13 Nobel Prizes and the numerous Fellowships associated with the University community.

We are international

Renowned for its diversity, the University consistently attracts students from all over the world, creating a rich and stimulating international community. There are nearly 450 students from India, Bangladesh, Nepal, and Sri Lanka (2020) and you can be certain of a warm welcome with access to a wide network of friends from your country, and beyond. Find out about Bristol's Global Lounge, a dedicated hub focussed on connecting students from different backgrounds and cultures: Global Lounge at the University of Bristol

Research-led teaching

Our research tackles some of the world's most pressing issues, impacting policy and practise, and helps shape our innovative programmes, delivered through research-led teaching. This helps the University to equip students with the knowledge and career-relevant technical skills to enable them to succeed in their chosen workplace and within a competitive global market.

Graduate outcomes

Bristol is one of the 10 most targeted universities by top UK employers (High Fliers 2021). Our graduates have an excellent track record of international employment in sectors including finance, accountancy, investment banking, management consultancy, marketing, and other commercial careers worldwide. Over 90% of students in the Schools of Economics, Accounting and Finance and Management are in employment or further study after 15 months (Graduate Outcomes Survey 2020). Career destinations include a variety of notable organisations including JP Morgan, KPMG, PwC, EY, the Department for International Trade, and many more.

Life in Bristol

Bristol is a vibrant, dynamic city with a reputation for creativity and sustainability. Situated in England's West Country, the city's multicultural feel, its flourishing food scene, combined with its historic 19th-century harbour and green spaces will provide you with countless reasons to explore and thrive. If you need to access London, you are only 1 hour 40 minutes away by train.

For those who want to see the UK's iconic countryside, Bristol is a short journey from the Roman City of Bath, the stunning beaches of South Wales, the exquisite Cotswolds, and the rolling hills of Somerset.

Bristol's modern economy is built on creative media, technology, electronics, and aerospace engineering industries, from Airbus to Bristol VR Lab, the BBC, and the science and tech hub, FutureSpace. We have England's strongest digital media supply chain outside London, and Bristol is a buzzing incubator for start-ups and new enterprise. Named best business incubator in the world by UBI Global, Bristol's SETsquared has helped over 2,500 UK start-ups.

By choosing to join us at the University of Bristol, you'll have access to a broad range of student societies and become a part of our exciting community. From the Economics, Finance and Management Society, and The Management Society, to a whole breadth of cultural and sporting clubs such as the Asian Society, as well as Football and Netball teams, there really is something for everyone.

University of Dundee

University
of Dundee

The University of Dundee was the winner of the University of the Year for Student Experience in The Times and The Sunday Times Good University Guide 2020. The university was also ranked 3rd in the UK for satisfaction with teaching and 8th for programme satisfaction in the Guardian University Guide 2020.

Home to over 16,000 students, the student satisfaction rates speak volumes of the university's environment, offering a happy and healthy student life.

Located in eastern Scotland, the city of Dundee offers a vibrant, multicultural life to international students.

Teaching Quality

The university was awarded a gold ranking in the 2017 Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) and 76 per cent of Dundee's research was rated as 'world leading' or 'internationally renowned' in the most recent Research Excellence Framework (2014).

Employability

Graduate employment records of the university are consistently high, and 96.4 per cent of its students go into employment or further study within six months of graduation (Destination of Leavers from Higher Education UK, 2016/17).

The School of Business

The university's School of Business delivers an outstanding educational experience that connects people and organisations to deliver social and economic impact. With a strong emphasis on employability students have access to two dedicated members of business specialist careers staff for advice, placements, workshops etc.

The university's Centre for Entrepreneurship highlights their commitment to student enterprise and ensures students are informed, knowledgeable and connected long before they graduate and Engagement with employers and a market-led approach produces confident managers and leaders with a business-ready mind-set.

Master's degrees

The School of Business split their Master's degrees into two main areas. Firstly the conversion Master's degrees are a collection of business degrees which are open to both business and non-business graduates. These degrees are:

- MSc International Business
- MSc Management
- MSc International Marketing
- MSc Banking and Finance
- MFin International Finance
- MSc Islamic Finance

The second group is their extension, and one which is referred to as a professional degree. These are:

- MSc Accounting & Finance
- MSc Finance
- MSc professional Accountancy

These degrees are more advanced Master's degrees in the sense that graduates need to have studied these subjects in their first degree. They advance their knowledge onto the next level. Similar to the conversion degrees, the MSc Accounting & Finance and the MSc Finance degrees also offer students the chance to specialise in a particular pathway, for example MSc Finance and Risk.

At the Bachelor level, the University of Dundee's School of Business also offers the following degrees:

- BSc Business Management
- BSc Economics
- BSc Financial Economics

- BSc International Business
- BFin Finance
- BiFin International Finance

Entry Requirements

Students can find entry requirements for all courses on the relevant course pages.

All courses at the University of Dundee are taught in English, so international students will need to meet

English language requirements for their chosen course. If a student's first language is not English, they will have to provide IELTS results, with a minimum score usually of 6.5 or equivalent.

Lancaster University Management School

Lancaster University Management School (LUMS) is home to a thriving and truly international community of students and staff from more than 180 countries. We are one of the longest-established business schools in the UK, and have a presence in 24 countries, including campuses in China, Germany and Ghana.

LUMS is a place of cutting-edge knowledge, where we challenge and support our creative staff, students and partners to realise their ambitions. Our leading research – ranked as the top business school in the UK for ‘research power’ (REF2014) – is applied in the real world, positively impacting the lives of individuals, businesses and industries, economies and society.

Our research projects and engagement initiatives challenge convention, push boundaries, and shape agendas. This world-leading research underpins everything we do and informs the University’s TEF Gold standard teaching.

The school is among a select group to be quadruple accredited in recognition of the quality of everything we do from the most influential business school accreditation bodies: the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), the EFMD Quality Improvement System (EQUIS), the Association of MBAs (AMBA) and the Small Business Charter (SBC). Quadruple accreditation provides assurance that LUMS is a globally leading business school.

Lancaster University is consistently in the top 10 of all three major UK rankings tables – The Guardian University Guide, The Complete University Guide 2020, and The Times & Sunday Times Good University Guide. Our high student satisfaction and excellent reputation for research demonstrate the quality of our offering, and the value for money offered by our programmes.

Postgraduate Opportunities

Many graduates come to LUMS in search of contemporary theory and insightful real-world lessons to deepen what they already know or advance to the next stage in their career.

For more than 30 years, our flagship MBA programme has transformed high-calibre students into leading managers in their chosen sectors. Lancaster University MBA students graduate as globally fluent leaders, ready to shape organisations, industries, and societies.

The 2021 MBA programme will see students working with the Pentland Centre for Sustainability in Business at Lancaster University and the Work Foundation. Guided by the United Nations’ 17 Sustainable Development Goals, the programmes is working to establish stronger connections between business and our local communities through hands-on projects driven by the purpose of achieving responsible, sustainable, and inclusive outcomes.

Rankings only tell part of our story. Nonetheless, our postgraduate degrees perform strongly across a broad range of business school rankings. Our MBA, Masters in Management and Masters in Finance are ranked in the top 100 globally by the Financial Times, and the QS Business Masters rankings rate our Masters programmes in Marketing, Business Analytics, Finance and Management among the top 100 in the world.

Our MSc Management programme is aimed at students who want to fast-track a successful career in management. Every year, students, alumni and business representatives collaborate to review the curriculum, ensuring relevance and continuous improvement. This reputation catches the attention of many businesses, which often recruit directly from the programme. Experiential learning is prioritised, and graduates go on to join multinational consultancy firms, take over family businesses, or embark on their own ventures.

The MSc Strategy programme teaches the art and practice of strategy. Students graduate with the know-how to develop strategic business models, understand the implications of digital strategy and utilise mergers and acquisitions as a potential strategy to address challenges and opportunities. Endorsed by Ernst & Young (EY) and Gränges, the programme exposes students to industry opportunities such as guest lectures, internships and mentorships, and preparing them for a career in consultancy, project management, or any other field that requires leaders with a solid game-plan.

Careers Support

Our dedicated Careers Team provides the extra assistance to help students define their career paths — a service that lasts a lifetime as a LUMS graduate. All LUMS Master's students have access to direct guidance and support, including access to virtual assessment centres, mock video interviews and other facilities to give them the best chance to achieve their career ambitions.

LUMS creates the ideal environment in which students from around the globe can thrive.

University of Leeds

Established in 1904, the University of Leeds is one of the largest universities in the UK, located in the heart of a vibrant, affordable and student friendly city. As a leading Russell Group university, we are famous for our teaching and research and are ranked in the top 100 universities in the world (QS World Rankings).

Located in one of the UK's fastest growing cities, the University is one of the top 5 most targeted universities by graduate recruiters in the UK (The Graduate Market in 2021, High Fliers Research). Opportunities to apply for work placements (undergraduate students), live projects and fieldwork throughout your course can allow you to build your experience and boost your employability.

Leeds University Business School

We are leading business school, regularly world ranked by the Financial Times, QS and The Economist, and one of a small number of schools worldwide to be triple accredited by AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS. We deliver undergraduate, masters, MBA and PhDs. Most of our programmes regularly feature in the top ten in the Complete University Guide League Tables, The Guardian University Guide, The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide.

We are considered to be one of the most popular business schools in the UK and offer 12 different undergraduate degrees and 24 different masters programmes, which focus on either Accounting and Finance, Management, International Business, Economics and Human Resource Management with the option to combine a number of our courses with marketing.

Our BSc Accounting & Finance offers the maximum number of exemptions by the relevant awarding bodies, our International Business degrees are accredited by the Institute of Export (IOE) and our degrees with a marketing variant are accredited by the Chartered Institute of Marketing (Graduate Gateway).

Many of our postgraduate programmes are accredited by professional awarding bodies including Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM), Chartered Institute of Professional Development (CIPD), Chartered Banking Institute (CBI), Chartered Management Institute (CMI), British Psychological Association (BPS) and the Institute of Export (IOE).

The Leeds MBA programme is a one-year post-experience programme which covers the foundations of business management that mid-level managers need to be able to move into more senior level roles. Ranked amongst the world's best (The Economist Which MBA? 2021), our MBA combines the academic rigour of a postgraduate degree from a Russell Group university, with the practical and professional practice needed to operate in the global environment.

Alumni

As a graduate of Leeds University Business School, you will become a lifelong member of our global alumni community of over 30,000 alumni in more than 145 countries. We have alumni groups in over 33 different countries and host a range of alumni networking events each year which include online business lectures and professional development webinars which our alumni can access.

University of Lincoln

Business and Management

Business and Management programmes at the University of Lincoln in England are designed for students who want to work in the fast-paced global world of business, whether it is in a private, public, or a third sector organisation.

We aim to produce enterprising, highly employable graduates with an international perspective who are ready to work in a variety of settings, co-ordinating teams, managing projects, and delivering business strategies.

The University of Lincoln has more than 300 courses available at undergraduate and postgraduate level, and our business and management portfolio includes postgraduate courses such as MSc International Business, MSc Accounting and Finance, MSc Management, MSc Marketing and MSc Engineering Management.

Many courses offer work placements, field trips and guest speakers to help you gain professional experience to make you stand out in the jobs market when you graduate.

We want students to get involved in initiatives such as our Student Managed Investment Fund, and enjoy the benefits of our links to companies such as Siemens and Reuters. We have Bloomberg Terminals on campus, enabling business students and staff to monitor and analyse real-time financial market data.

At the University of Lincoln, we believe passionately in the transformative power of higher education. Each year we offer a variety of scholarships and bursaries which can provide extra financial assistance with the costs of study to eligible students.

Scholarships include our £5,000 India and Pakistan postgraduate scholarships, which are automatic if students meet the qualifying criteria, and the Lincoln Global 50% Scholarship, which must be applied for.

The University of Lincoln is home to a growing community of students from around the world and we are delighted that you are considering joining us.

Since Her Majesty the Queen opened the first University of Lincoln building on the Brayford Pool Campus, we have welcomed more than 90,000 students from across 135 countries. Today, we are listed in the world's top 150 universities in the Times Higher Education's (THE) Young University Rankings 2020 and were also named as the Modern University of the Year in The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2021.

At the University of Lincoln, we put students at the heart of everything we do. We have a reputation for innovative teaching and were awarded a five-star score overall in the QS Stars rating in 2020 and were awarded Gold, the highest standard possible, in the national Teaching Excellence Framework (TEF) 2017.

As a student at the University of Lincoln you will be living in one of Europe's great historic cities, with a history dating back as far as 300BC. Alongside remains from Lincoln's Roman heritage, the city is also home to a number of historical buildings and landmarks, including Lincoln Cathedral which was built in 1072 and was once the tallest building in the world. The city is also home to Lincoln Castle which has watched over the city's skyline for almost 1,000 years.

Lincoln is a fantastic place to live, study and work and was named as one of Britain's 20 Best Cities in 2017 by The Telegraph. In 2016, Lincoln was also named as the friendliest place in the UK by the Eden Project's Big Lunch programme and those who live here. More recently, Lincoln was named as one of the most affordable student cities in the UK, according to The Times Good University Guide 2020.

You may not think you know the county of Lincolnshire, but our residents have helped shape history beyond its borders. Renowned physicist and mathematician Sir Isaac Newton was born in the Lincolnshire village of Woolsthorpe-by-Colsterworth in 1642. Lincolnshire was also the birthplace of the UK's first female Prime Minister, Margaret Thatcher, and the home of poet Alfred Tennyson.

The city has also been used as a filming location for Downton Abbey, The Da Vinci Code and The King.

London Metropolitan University

Our mission is to transform lives through education, meaning your future success is at the heart of everything we do. We help our students become leaders, changemakers and innovators.

You'll have access to world-class facilities, such as some of the most advanced Cisco labs in London, a state-of-the-art interpreting suite, and our Cyber Security Research Centre. We're also one of the few universities that will offer you the chance to directly use Bloomberg data, information and analytics in our Bloomberg Room.

"When it comes to languages, diversity and opportunities, London is the right place to be. I like what the city stands for in terms of diversity, history and cultural and gastronomic richness. In addition, the UK is a hub of educational excellence. I learned quite a lot during my stay here and met very interesting people." Mohamed Bouhmid, Conference Interpreting MA graduate.

What our students say

"Studying at London Met provided me with an opportunity to network with the best in the business and learn from talented and experienced individuals. The best part of London Met for me was spending time at its specialist business incubator called Accelerator, which specialises in business development programmes for high value and innovative companies."

Sujit Nair, Master of Business Administration (MBA) graduate

"There were a few pleasant surprises that did come my way when at London Met. Firstly, the support from the School and the professors. The 'my door is always open' phrase couldn't have been more evident when it came to getting help from them. And secondly, the sheer number of quality resources we had access to via the library such as online journals, research databases and reference material."

Gaurav Gajjar, Master of Business Administration (MBA) graduate

The Liverpool Institute for Performing Arts

The Liverpool Institute for Performing Arts (LIPA) is a specialist university-level provider of learning for performers and those who make performance possible. Co-founded by Paul McCartney who remains our Lead-Patron, we are based on the site of the old Liverpool Institute – the former school of Paul McCartney and fellow Beatle George Harrison – and the Liverpool Art College, which a third Beatle, John Lennon, attended.

We are home to 1,000 students, 25% of whom are international and represent over 40 countries. As well as Management, our course areas include Acting, Applied Theatre, Dance, Design/Technology, Filmmaking, Music and Sound Technology. Collaboration between making performance possible and performing students is at the centre of your learning and gives you practical, real life experience.

Studying Management at LIPA

Our BA (Hons) Management of Music, Entertainment, Theatre and Events undergraduate degree prepares you for working in the performing and creative arts industries with a balance of theoretical knowledge and practical experience.

You develop an in-depth understanding of business, finance, entertainment law, management, decision-making, fundraising and marketing. You are then given regular opportunities to apply this knowledge to real projects, often collaborating with our acting, dance, filmmaking, music, design and technology students.

From second year onwards, you specialise in your chosen field (music, entertainments, theatre or events), creating and managing real commercial events and products as you gain experience of managing people and projects.

Your final year allows you to specialise and gives you a head start in your professional career. You spend the first three months gaining hands-on experience through a work placement. You'll also reflect on the projects you've worked on across all three years and produce a portfolio which documents your experiences and which you can use as evidence of your work to future employers.

In 2020 world renowned music industry publication Billboard included LIPA in its list of the top international music business schools. Each year Billboard compiles a directory of the best industry-related courses for people looking to follow a career in the music business. LIPA was included for its BA (Hons) Management of Music, Entertainment, Theatre and Events course.

Course highlights include:

Placements

Your third-year industry placement will be with an organisation that reflects your ambitions. As well as giving you three months of real-world experience, it allows you to build up a professional network of contacts. Recent placements have included Warner Music, Tileyard Music (Sigala, Ella Eyre) and First Access Entertainment (artist management, including Nicole Scherzinger).

The 2ube Xtra

The 2ube Xtra is a student run week-long music festival staged in our largest performance space, the Paul McCartney Auditorium. It showcases LIPA Music students and alumni and performances are streamed live online.

The festival is the culmination of nine months' work by Management students, who also run the weekly gig-night, The 2ube. They're responsible for organising every aspect of the festival from planning, marketing and A & R through to overseeing production meetings, sound checks, event management and box office.

Every evening features performances from up to four artists – each with their own sound, lighting and stage requirements. As well as Management and Music students The 2ube Xtra also relies on contributions from Sound Technology, Creative Technologies and Performance (filmmaking) and Theatre & Performance Design and Technology students.

Graduate success and employability

Graduates of our Management of Music, Entertainment, Theatre and Events degree include Oscar nominated film producer Lynette Howell Taylor, Facebook's Head of Music Vanessa Bakewell and Ed Millett, who co-founded Tap Management, whose clients include Dua Lipa and Lana Del Rey.

Others have set up their own businesses, undertaking a wide range of activities including event management, theatre production, organising arena tours, managing and representing successful bands and artists, marketing, publishing, promotion, video production and managing social media.

With world-class research and TEF Gold accredited teaching, our people are at the core of our success.

You'll achieve a world-class undergraduate education at our city-centre campus, in one of the UK's favourite cities. Voted the most affordable student city in the UK (QS 2020), in Newcastle you can achieve world leading education without worrying about the cost.

Do you want to extend your subject knowledge, specialise in a field, or gain a competitive edge in the jobs market? We can help you find the right postgraduate study option for you.

We inspire students, staff, and partners to come together to learn, explore, and solve the most pressing issues facing the future of work and leaders in our MBA. Our MBA is much more than a management programme, it's a journey of self-discovery and transformation. It provides you the opportunity to: enhance your self-awareness, integrate and apply your learning, develop your consulting skills, and contribute to lead multicultural teams. Aditi, our MBA graduate from 2019 says 'The whole experience has changed me as a person, I feel more confident in an intellectual way. I have a much broader understanding of the world and can drive intelligent conversations.'

Newcastle University has over 200 societies that students can choose from. Our TEDx Society is particularly popular where students gather weekly to watch TED/TEDx talks and discuss new ideas and perspectives. Our students gain real experience of leading on initiatives with their involvement in the curation and production of our annual TEDxNewcastleUniversity Conference.

Our alumni community spans across the globe, over five continents and 142 countries, so you are never too far from a Newcastle University Business School graduate.

When you graduate with us you become a member of our Global Alumni Network. This membership gives you exclusive access to NCL Spark, a mentoring initiative for students and alumni which can help you find out more about the career areas that interest you, directly from graduates working in those areas. You can connect with a mentor, build and develop a professional network, receive careers advice from alumni around the world, gain insight into a particular industry or career, and increase your self-awareness and understand the skills and qualities you can offer future employers.

Aston University's triple accredited Business School offers courses in all areas of business and management.

Practical experience is a key feature of Aston courses. We promote learning by doing, giving our students the opportunity to gain valuable experience, through placements, virtual internships and consultancy projects. Aston students work with real employers on real business challenges.

We are connected to business and industry through our relationships with thousands of companies of all shapes and sizes. Based in Birmingham city centre our strategic location gives our students exposure to these companies, many of which regularly visit us on campus. Aston has an award winning careers team which supports students with finding a job up to three years upon graduation.

Scholarships

We're investing over £1 million in scholarships to help you achieve your career ambitions here at Aston University. We have a range of international scholarships to recognise your academic, professional and personal experience.
