

Sr No	Module	Project	Language skills	Real world knowledge
1	Strange but true	Role-play a TV interview about a strange event	1. a conversation about British superstitions 2. embedded questions vs direct questions	writing an opinion essay and solving logic problems
2	Sense-ational	Create and present a showboard for a science fair	1. present simple for habits and facts; present continuous for things happening now 2. using verbs for emotions and thoughts in the present simple (hear, think, understand)	sharing views on amazing animal senses and discussing similarities and differences between people's lives
3	No limits	Create a presentation about an explorer	1. using so, such, too, and (not) enough to talk about challenges 2. narrative tenses	a short text about an explorer and discuss challenges explorers face in difference places
4	Music to my ears	An interview with a music star	1. past simple and present perfect 2. present perfect simple and present perfect continuous	organise a benefit concert and write a fact file about a traditional instrument
5	Let's play	Design and make a game	1. passive verb forms (is played by, was created, has been translated) 2. comparative and superlative adjectives and adverbs (more often, less popular, a bit healthier)	design and give a presentation on an escape room
6	Myths and Legends	Prepare and give a tourguide talk about a place linked to a myth	1. questions ending in prepositions 2. hedging/reporting expressions for talking about myths and legends	a role play as a news reporter and witness
7	Boost your brain	Create a poster to encourage language learning	1. adjectives and adverbs (-ly and irregular) 2. -ing form as a noun, adjective, verb	role-play a conversation between two people about the benefits of learning a second language
8	Let's be friends	Create and present a scheme aimed at helping people in lonely situations	1. verb expressions with indirect objects 2. expressions for comparing and contrasting ideas	discuss experiences and situations which create strong connections between friends write an advert for a robot
9	Homes of the future	Design and present a home of the future	1. language to talk about dimensions 2. intensifiers	discuss the advantages and disadvantages of smart technology