Featured Author

Jane Austen

Jane Austen's fourth novel, Emma, was published 200 years ago this year. Following hard on the heels of her earlier works, Sense and Sensibility, Pride and Prejudice and Mansfield Park, all of which had been published in the short period between 1811 and 1814 and all of which had been enthusiastically received by the reading public, Emma employs familiar narrative techniques by focusing heavily on the point of view of a single character, Emma Woodhouse. The reader is drawn into Emma's consciousness, a technique that intensifies the novel's ironic commentary on her blindnesses and errors. If Emma is a comedy of manners, then it is at times also a dark one, exploring women's complex involvement with the roles demanded of them by a materialistic courtship system.

Findings from Tel Aviv University Broaden Understanding of Plant Science (Competency for shoot regeneration from Arabidopsis root explants is regulated by DNA methylation)

Publication Information

Full Text:

2015 SEP 29 (NewsRx) -- By a News Reporter-Staff News Editor at Life Science Weekly -- A new study on Life Science Research is now available. According to news reporting out of Tel Aviv, Israel, by NewsRx editors, research stated, "Plants exhibit high capacity to regenerate in three alternative pathways: tissue repair, somatic embryogenesis and de novo organogenesis. For most plants, de novo organ initiation can be easily achieved in tissue culture by exposing explants to auxin and/or cytokinin, yet the competence to regenerate varies among species and within tissues from the same plant."

Our news journalists obtained a quote from the research from Tel Aviv University, "In Arabidopsis, root explants incubated directly on cytokinin-rich shoot inducing medium (SIM-direct), are incapable of regenerating shoots, and a pre-incubation step on auxin-rich callus inducing medium (CIM) is required to acquire competency to regenerate on the SIM. However the mechanism underlying competency acquisition still remains elusive. Here we show that the chromomethylase 3 (cmt3) mutant which exhibits significant reduction in CHG methylation, shows high capacity to regenerate on SIM-direct and that regeneration occurs via direct organogenesis. In WT, WUSCHEL (WUS) promoter, an essential gene for shoot formation, is highly methylated, and its expression on SIM requires pre-incubation on CIM. However, in cmt3, WUS expression induced by SIM-direct. We propose that pre-incubation on CIM is required for the re-activation of cell division."

According to the news editors, the research concluded: "Following the transfer of roots to SIM, the intensive cell division activity continues, and in the presence of cytokinin leads to a dilution in DNA methylation that allows certain genes required for shoot regeneration to respond to SIM, thereby advancing shoot formation."
