

ROTI, KAPDA AUR MAKAAAN

The biggest slogan of Indian socialism is 'Roti, kapda aur makaan'. This remains so for humanity as a whole. This continues to be the basic needs of humanity for unending generations.

I have tried to depict the concept in a simple aesthetic way as possible. The roundness depicts our globe continues rotating and revolving from time immemorial. The first and foremost of the three 'Roti' or food is depicted in the middle. The 'kapda' or clothes is as a stole which is a universal dress component.

The third part 'makaan' or shelter, though a basic necessity is in sufficient in the present day. The shelter should also include the learning and education which is realised by one and all. So, the learning institution! The institution should not be political or religious platform keeping in view of old slogan Roti, kapda aur makaan.

I have tried to give vintage effect to show the oldness in the picture of collage which is a digital print.
